

Data collation and study design from electronic health record data

A Identification of individuals with cancer in primary and cancer recency analyses

B Identification of vaccination status for analysis

